Free Chest X-rays For White Rock

Final details of the last major section of the chest X-ray survey in the Boundary Health Unit area, were announced this week by Dr. H. K. Kennedy, director of the Health Unit at Cloverdale.

Free chest X-raying will commence at White Rock on January 18 and will continue for five days until January 22. The X-ray unit will be located at two spots in this time. First location will be the Silver Moon hall when X-raying will be done on the afternoon of the 18th and the morning and afternoon of January 19. For the remaining three days, January 20, 21 and 22, the unit will be located at the Legion Hall, White Rock. Exact working hours will be announced in this paper later.

SUCCESS OF CAMPAIGN

Since the opening of the large-scale X-ray programme of the Boundary Health Unit on October 26, 6,032 chest X-rays have been taken. Of this number 28 percent have been found to require further chest examinations, five of whom were in the student age-group. At this time of writing no figures on the actual number of tuberculosis cases are available.

Robert J. Hunter, community chest organizer of the B.C. Tuberculosis Society told the Sunnyside Sun that the number of X-rays taken to date represented about 60% of the potential. It was his hope that people of White Rock will turn out in force to help make up the slack.

SERVICE FREE

The service is entirely free of charge and is offered to all persons 15 years of age and over. The equipment used was purchased recently through funds raised in the annual Christmas Seal sale.

Local Players To Stage Intriguing Adult Comedy

White Rock Players are afraid they may be heading for trouble with the women when they stage "The Women," January 14 through 23 at the Little Theatre.

To forestall the inevitable adverse reaction of feminine theatre-goers to the play's ruthless portrayal of women the club has issued the following statement:

"In our forthcoming production women are pictured, with only one or two exceptions, as vain, false, shallow, predatory, capricious, cruel and self-centred. We do not think this is a true picture of women, particularly women in White Rock; although, for all we know, there may be types similar to those portrayed among the New York species with which the playwright is primarily concerned."

"The play is a frank and outspoken one," the statement continues. "Our reasons for having selected it are two-fold. We believe it is highly entertaining and, secondly, its content and the challenges it presents in staging and costuming make it a play which, from an actor's point of view, is a most satisfying and dramatic group's standpoint, is fun to do. We hope it will cause no offence to local playgoers—particularly the feminine portion of our audience."

"The Women," a comedy by C. L. Brown, which concerns a specific strand of society in which women exchange husbands almost as casually as they change frocks, was an immediate hit when it appeared on Broadway, where it ran for two years.

A later film version featured a star-studded cast including Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford, Rosalind Russell, Mary Boland, Paulette Goddard and Josh Fontaine.

Although it is concerned entirely with woman's relation to man, not one male character appears during the course of the play's action which skims, in a rapid succession of scene changes, from bedroom to hall-dresser to night club to bathroom to fitting room to linen closet.

Author of "The Women" is a woman who has become a public figure, Clare Booth, who has had three successful plays on Broadway, is the wife of H. V. Luce, publisher of Life, Time and Fortune magazines. She served as a Republican congressman and, recently, as United States ambassador to Italy.

White Rock Players have mounted a series of related and stylish sets for their production, which features a cast of 26 local women.

W. R. Sunnyside Fire Dept. Reports Year's Activities

During the year 1953 the White Rock-Sunnyside Fire Department responded to 68 fire alarms and 3 inhalator calls as against 46 fire alarms and 4 inhalator calls in the year 1952.

These facts were made known by Fire Chief C. W. Pollard in the annual report issued this week.

"Property losses," said the Fire Chief, "amounted to approximately $5,745, with a risk value of approximately $480,000."

By way of explanation, the Chief continued, the risk value means the value of the premises in which the fire occurred.

During the year 1952 the total fire loss for the area was $22,212.

Involved in this amount was the loss of a hay storage barn amounting to $10,000. The White Rock-Sunnyside Fire Department, mainly covers three districts of the Municipality of Surrey.

In the break down of the 68 fire loss, White Rock had a loss of 33,000; Sunnyside 22,165; of which $1,000 of the loss is presumed to have been represented by the loss of a single residential fire in which the White Rock-Sunnyside Fire Department had not been called to attend.

New Council

Considers Municipal Problems

Second School By-law is a Must

Provision of classroom accommodation to relieve Surrey's congestion in school population by submission of a money by-law in the Spring has first place among Surrey's pressing problems to be dealt with during the current year Reeve Charles Schultz told the new Council at its inaugural meeting in Cloverdale on Monday night.

Wastage disposal for Whalley and South Westminister this year, and consideration for a possible sewage system for Cloverdale in the near future must also be considered, the Reeve declared.

A draft by-law was also forecast embodying all water systems served by the Greater Vancouver Water Board into one area, including Hilltop, Mount Pleasant and the area south of King George Highway to Johnston Road. Cloverdale water extension is also a vital issue.

A money by-law to all both White Rock and Surrey Memorial Hospital Societies may be a possibility, dependent upon the outcome of the Fraser Valley hospital survey now being made by the provincial government.

Mr. Schultz also urged completion of drainage of the land area and prosecution of a plan to establish a "fog free" will be held in the United Church Hall at 2 p.m. on January 15. All those interested in Red Cross work are cordially invited to attend.

TV VUE-ING

JOE BEAUBOARD

Well folks we have news on T.V. reception which is mostly all good. Now it finally comes out that the ghosting on KVOH T.V. Huntington is due to reflection from a nearby mountain. So the signal from Huntington T.V. has a ghost show away before it starts its journey to your T.V. screen, giving you the double exposure effect which is very annoying. I have always maintained that the signal from KVOH T.V. should be at least 50 per cent better than it has been so far. Another piece of good news is that there is talk of relocating the entire T.V. transmitter to a more suitable location. More on that later.

How many of you below Hilltop on Columbia, Victoria and Washington Ave. are getting good results from CHUT on Channel 2, either with existing antennae or new installations? I will, as soon as weather conditions permit install a number of Channel 2 antennae and let you know the results. Some of our viewers have told us that Channel 5 "King" T.V. is better in their picture quality than KOMO T.V. This, I think, is due to the more experienced technical staff of King T.V. In time KOMO T.V. should be as good as King T.V.

As musical director of many CBC productions including "Fiddle Joe's Farns" and "A Date with Fred Hill" Art Morrow uses up a lot of midnight oil keeping up with both the conducting and arranging ends of programmes. Handing out a bit of special coaching on his special scores is still another part of the job. Here at the receiving end is pretty petite songstress Joyce Hahn.

New York T.V. Dancer Holidays in White Rock

Anita Barnett, gifted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Barnett of North Bluff Road, flew home from New York to spend the holiday season with her parents.

Currently appearing on the Jackie Gleason T.V. show, one of the best in the world of television in North America, Anita spent the summer months in Europe at Monte Carlo and Paris. Born in England, she studied at the famous Conservatoire in London before coming to Canada about seven years ago with her parents and brother. For four seasons she danced with the Theatre Under the Stars in Vancouver but left for New York some 12 months ago. While in Vancouver she continued her studies at the C.C. School of Dancing under John Armstrong.

Britain on Stage and Screen

A half-hour biography of the Duke of Edinburgh—called "Prince Philip"—has been made by Associated British. There are a number of excellent scenes of life at Gordonston, the famous Scottish school where the Duke was educated, and of the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, England, where he trained to be a sailor. The latter part of the film deals with the Duke's untiring efforts to establish playing fields throughout Britain and his interest in science and sport.

Turkey Producers to Convene in Nanaimo

A two-day Short Course for Turkey Producers will be held at the Malpais Hotel, Nanaimo, January 22 and 23. Items on the agenda for discussion include Rearing, Selection and Breeding of Turkeys. There will also be a panel discussion on marketing and merchandising of turkeys. Speakers will include Prof. J. Bely and Dr. A. Hicks, Department of Poultry Husbandry, University of B.C.; Mr. J. Miller, Extension Poultry Specialist, State College of Washington; Pullman, Wash.; Dr. J. C. Banister, Animal Pathologist, B.C. Department of Agriculture; and Mr. W. Walby, Poultry Inspector, B.C. Department of Agriculture.

Fees for this short course will be 10 dollars per person or 10 dollars for a man and his wife. Accommodation will be available at the Malpais Hotel. Applications must be filed by January 15. Application forms and other information can be obtained from Mr. W. H. Pope, Poultry Inspector, B.C. Department of Agriculture, Douglas Building, Victoria, B.C., or Mr. A. In the Midst of Plenty

Now that the Christmas' feasting is over most of us have a little time for more sober reflections on our so-called "Christmas spirit." To many, any all-too-apparent manifestation of that spirit is the terrific waste involved. Most serious, of course, is in the realm of food.

The overabundance of food on this continent, as contrasted with the scarcity in many lands, is appalling.

As one esteemed Canadian writer, Bruce Hutchison, has said, "If countries like Canada persist in maintaining far higher standards of diet and living than most of the world, the great majority in due time will turn upon us and inevitably destroy us."

Nober reflections and unpalatable truths are unwelcome to many. But they have to be taken into account when we reckon our balance now that the holiday is over.

And the remedy? Well, surely we could individually resolve to cut down drastically on waste of every kind—waste of energy both of body and of spirit, entailed by needless entertainment and "busy-ness"; waste of essential foods and materials; waste even in the superfluity of gifts given to children.

Yes, we know, it sounds like a New Year's resolution. And they are very much out of fashion. But taking the long view, if the short one does not appeal, it seems an eminently practical resolution.

A Golden Anniversary

This year marks the golden anniversary of the Christmas Seal sales, one of the greatest aids in the ever-present fight against tuberculosis. Not many people know that the idea of the Christmas seal originated in Denmark. Few realize that that same small country has the lowest tuberculosis death rate in the world.

Since the beginning of the Christmas seal sale idea to raise funds for anti-tuberculosis work, over 70 countries have adopted this method. The death-rate from TB has been reduced to one-tenth of what it was in 1900. If the death-rate today from TB were the same as it was fifty years ago in Canada, about 20,000 would die yearly of the disease. Instead fewer than 2,500 Canadians died of TB in 1952.

These are impressive figures, which organization heads can point with pride. But they should not lull us into a sense of false security.

This chief enemy of mankind germ still lies in wait for the unsuspecting victim. The pace of modern life with its constant drain on nervous and bodily energies is its active ally. If vigilance were relaxed for even one year the resulting illnesses and deaths would mount alarmingly.

Thus the importance of the yearly check-ups by the TB travelling clinics. Early discovery of TB pays dividends to both the individual and the community. If a case is found before symptoms appear, the chances of recovery are better than nine in ten. Early discovery also pays in another way: the danger of the disease spreading to others is greatly lessened. The farther the disease is advanced the greater is the danger from contacts.

Remember tuberculosis is still the leading cause of death in the 15 to 40 age group from which the working force of a country is largely drawn and which has the heaviest load of family responsibility.

So, even if you boast that you haven't had a cold in three years; even if you and your family are robust pictures of health, take advantage of the free service to be offered by the TB clinic in White Rock.

Help to make that golden anniversary a golden one indeed for your community and your family.

Our Own Two Feet

Our Premier, Mr. W. A. C. Bennett, recently visited Ottawa with a proposal that the Federal Government join with the B.C. government in a large-scale programme of development of this province's interior. His proposal is that Ottawa should put up $150 million over the next five years, and pay $6 million a year interest on the borrowed loan.

Other provinces of Canada are asking, and it seems to us, with some justification, Why?

Elaborating, they might suggest that Mr. Bennett's government might put up the money itself. For during the fiscal year B.C. will spend $142 million on ordinary account and $44 million for capital purposes.

Without agreeing with all the findings of the Fort Erie "Letter-Review" we do see some virtue in standing on our own two feet occasionally, and thus incline to applaud one of its recently published statements. It was to the effect that B.C.'s government will in the coming year "provide health and welfare services to the tune of $31 million, and pay $4 million subsidy to cut out its costly hospital insurance scheme. It will spend twice as much per capita as New Brunswick on education (without producing people who are twice as well educated) and three times as much per capita on welfare as Quebec (without producing people who are three times as happy!").

We are inclined, too, to feel that B.C. people themselves could put up Mr. Bennett's $150 million if he would stop taxing them at the fantastic rate of $149 per head. Other provinces, notably Ontario and Quebec, tax their residents about half as much and take care of their own development.

Bank of Montreal

Issues Annual Report

For the eighth consecutive year, the Bank of Montreal has been placed first among Canadian banks for 1953 in the "Bank Ad-View" continuing study of financial advertising in the North American continent. The Bank's high rating is a reflection of the high quality of its advertising.

Another survey made recently on a nation-wide basis by a leading Canadian research organization, confirmed this standing, by showing public recognition of Bank of Montreal advertising in newspapers, magazines and public vehicles as being among Canadian banks by a wide margin.

In the publication of annual reports, the Bank of Montreal has likewise received top awards for 1953. In Canada, the Financial Post Reports Committee has given first place to the bank's 1952 report in the "Financial Institutions" classification. The judging committee consists of leading members of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada and the Association of Canadian Advertisers.

From the United States, the Bank of Montreal has received a "Merit Award" in the annual competition conducted by the Financial World, New York, "for distinguished achievement in annual reporting for three consecutive years and in recognition of its leadership in the 1952 annual report to shareholders."

The report—as quoted in the citation—was judged as among the most modern from the standpoint of content, typography and format of the 5,000 annual reports examined during 1952. This is the third award which the Bank of Montreal has received from the Financial World for its annual reports since 1950.

The 1953 annual report of the bank covering 1953 has just been issued to shareholders.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

By GEORGE HAHN

December 21, 1953

My Dear Friends:

The past week in Parliament prior to adjournment for the Christmas season witnessed the best debate of the past two or three years according to all reports of those who have spent the past several years as Canada's lawmakers.

And it all came about because The Honourable Minister of National Revenue McCann introduced into the House for second reading Bill No. 29—a Bill to amend the Customs Act. Innocently enough it had its beginning by the Minister explaining the Bill for the manufacturers needing protection from dumping of end of season goods onto the Canadian Market.

B.C. members, McLeod, Jones, Wing-ding and others, seized the opportunity to call for the Bill to be enlarged and to include fresh fruit and vegetables. In his reply Prime Minister St. Laurent insisted that he had no objection to its inclusion as did the Minister of National Revenue. However, the honourable Minister did indicate that he thought Section 43 covered the fruit and vegetable growers. By the next time the debate on the Bill was continued the Prime Minister had changed his "would not object" to "might not object to it." Charged with changing the wording he agreed that he had done so but he could see no difference.

The Conservative amendment to the resolution which was identical to the one George McLeod of Okanagan-Revelstoke and I had given notice of at the outset of the debate was then "manufactured" was to be deleted. From there on it was a ding-dong battle of words and questions and short speeches. The Minister insisted that fruits and vegetables were included in Section 43. Among others I could not see it and asked him to give a definition of "manufactured" which he was able to do to my satisfaction. It was pointed out that Section 43 did not mention fruit and vegetables. It is a section dealing specifically with erroneous charges of Tariff. It could, if it were possible to get prompt action, possibly be construed to be of help, but I do not think it is of value to anyone but the wholesalers.

Liberals led by Tucker of Northern, saw a dangerous precedent in the adoption of the amendment to the Bill and the "tariff" party they combined with the CCF voted against it.

Conservatives, Social Credit and Harold Winch voted for it. In taking this stand Winch explained that under present method of financing business of this country he had no alternative. The amendment to the Bill was defeated. The Liberal party did not vote for it despite the fact that the Prime Minister reiterated that he had no objection to it. The Prime Minister and Minister McCann both refrained from voting.

The Potato Growers and the Fruit Growers of the Lower Mainland must again depend upon Section 43 of the Customs Act for protection. Season's Greeting to one and all.

The growth habits of the Douglas fir tree are such that it need will not germinate nor its seedlings thrive in the deep shade of older and larger trees.

A SMILE FOR 1954

Have you noticed how many people you meet along the street who look something had annoyed them, or were up against defeat?

Of course there are exceptions; pleasant faces here and there. Especially the younger folk, you meet them everywhere.

But those older folk look different, while very far from dumb, yet they have that troubled look, could be described as glum.

Oh, I know some carry toll and care, especially these days. With the higher cost for living and in many other ways.

You can see them in a bus or train, could be they are in pain. One wonders were they always so, or will they ever smile again.

Well, well, that's how they go, but it would be worthwhile that they only know the good they'd do, if they tried at least to smile.

Not just at everyone they meet, we would not have them down.

But the pleasant face we like to see, not one that wears a frown.

Some improvements will be time ripe for abolition of the ward system. Councillor W. A. Mortimer claimed it would do away with personal contact of electors with their councillor and would have a tendency to develop some districts at the expense of others.

The Council decided to study the situation and re-open the discussion at the next meeting.

SO IT'S 1964

Even to those of us who are "not so very young" the thought of Anno Domini 1964 a few years ago would have seemed like looking forward to the millennium. And here we are in it—and none the worse for the experience. Though some of us may be a bit breathless, for the years spin past so rapidly now—a-days we could. If it were possible to live long enough, write A.D. 2000, as nonchalantly as we inscribe 1964 today.

It's not a Leap Year, either, so we can look for no excitement in that quarter, with a really dizzy St. Valentine's coming up in February. We must wait for that until 1968.

TO JILT OR NOT TO JILT

Still, there will be all the familiar activities of the little old Cupid to keep the Home Front lively. Apropos of that I saw an article the other day which rather startled me. It was entitled "How to Jilt a Woman—Publicly!"

I couldn't help wondering if this was the "ultimate" in our already over-casual and unrefined existence. I had always thought jilting of any sort was among the distinctly greater agencies of life. And here was a marriage counsellor arranging how it could be done "painlessly." It sounded horribly like a "Painless Parker" sort of dentistry.

RULES FOR JILTING

Jilting a woman, said the Counsellor, in the methodical way of most of his species, is not just a matter of frankly putting all your cards on the table. And he carefully listed seven points which must be taken into consideration. Don't break off in anger; don't try to "taper off"; don't be swayed by pitiful tears or threats of suicide; don't stick around in the same crowd or neighbourhood; don't suggest that you two "remain friends."

Best of all, concluded our pompous Counsellor, help her find a man who will marry her! Can't you just see the girls leaping up that knightly assistance? The filter, said the M.C., may be astounded (and somewhat deflated) to find how suddenly the jilted will drop him.

This last sound like mighty effective poetic justice, to me!

THE RECIPES FOR THE WEEK

To take the taste of all this jilting talk out of our feminine mouths let's consider a sort of cooking. "They" say the frustrated always eat too much, but we'll take a chance on that. Anyway there will be lots of "unfilled" members of your family to enjoy this winter pie.

This is one of my family's favourite pie fillings and it can be made with either canned or dried apricots. If you want to dress it up for company dinner you can use whipped cream for toasting.

APRICOT MERINGUE PIE

2 cups cooked (dried) apricots
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon water
2 eggs
2 tablespoons sugar
Lemon flavouring
 Mash two cups of cooked apricots, sweeten to taste and heat in double boiler. Mix cornstarch and cold water and add to mixture. Cook until thick; add butter. Add mixture slowly to beaten egg yolks. Pour into baked pastry shell. Beat whites very stiff; add sugar and flavouring. Spread over pie. Brown in a slow oven about 225° F.). Will serve six persons. This makes a most attractive dessert when served in individual pastry shells.

Along the Buy-Ways

By MADGE HELMER

We take dry-cleaning as so much a part of our modern lives that I don't suppose we ever give a serious thought to the process, machinery and ability required, so you can imagine my amazement when I saw the amount of machinery at the WHITE ROCK CLEANERS, which Mr Lewis assures me is necessary to do a first-class job.

For instance, there is a special machine for removing lint from trouser cuffs, which has to be done before they are cleaned, and a huge ironing board with steam coils underneath to prevent any moisture being left in the garment being pressed.

Did you know that the simplest dry-cleaning work involves at least four machines? First the garment goes into the washer where the actual cleaning takes place in solvent. The solvent is filtered continuously so that the fluid running through the garment is always clean. It seems almost unbelievable that 1,500 gallons of solvent pass through the filter machines every hour. After the garment is taken from the solvent, it is air-conditioned. Fresh air is forced through and through articles of clothing until they are not the slightest suggestion of odor left in them. Therefore you can take your clothes directly from the WHITE ROCK CLEANERS and wear them without the least embarrassment.

Dry-cleaning is an interesting business and during the next weeks I am to have the pleasure of taking you through the actual process, step by step. I hope you enjoy it.

Again I would like to stress the fact that the money you spend on dry-cleaning at the WHITE ROCK CLEANERS remains in White Rock. It is a point well worth remembering, so do support your local industry. The WHITE ROCK CLEANERS.

Double Ring Ceremony at Holy Trinity

A double-ring ceremony solemnized at 3 p.m. in Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Wednesday, December 30, united in the marriage, Eileen Florence Nestling and Donald M Johnson. Rev E Pitt Griffiths officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs O E Nestling, 1168 Blackburn, Crescent, White Rock, and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs E W Johnson, Shepherd Road.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pale ivory length gown of white nylon net and satin posed over a tulle skirt. A three-quarter length veil of nylon net was pinned to a Juliet comb decorated with pearls completed her ensemble. She wore a single strand necklace of pearls, the white orchid on a white prayer book which was the gift of her paternal grandmother, Mrs F Worts of Calgary.

Miss Marjorie Johnson of Vancouver, sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant, she wore a pale blue satin ball gown length dress with net overskirt, a matching blue Juliet cap and carried a colorful bouquet.

The groom was Dr Keith Nestling of Calgary, brother of the bride. Mr Ralph Johnson, 1168 Blackburn, Crescent, was the best man.

Ushers were Mr Allan Johnson, brother of the groom, and Dr Cyril Worts of Calgary, the bride's uncle.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs Nestling attended in navy blue lace, wearing a corsage of pink roses, received the guests.

Dr. Worts, the bride's uncle, proposed the bridal toast. For the wedding trip to Portugal, the bride donned a tulle gown of wood dore and brown and brown fur coat and brown and brown fur coat.

The newlyweds will make their home at 1168 Blackburn Crescent.

In 1952 the average value per acre of Canadian farm land was $48, double the 1952-53 value.

In the Garden

Care of House Plants

At this time of the year flowering plants in the living room of the house are a joy to the family. Some will have had plants given them as Christmas gifts, and a few hints as to the proper care of these may be useful.

Often many of these plants have wilted or lost their bloom, some in a very short space of time, and usually the fault is due to neglect or over-indulgence.

For instance, the popular cyclamen, which needs water during its flowering period, is often killed by giving it a daily dribble of water. It is better to leave it alone till the soil begins to show signs of dryness and then give it a thorough soaking in a pan of water, then let it drain off before replanting it in its saucer. It is a poor system to let it stand in a saucer, with water in it, soaking as mentioned will satisfy it for a week.

Most flowering plants will do best under this kind of treatment. Ferns, palms, aspidistra and other foliage plants may benefit from standing in a saucer with a little water.

Other causes of trouble are overheating, dryness of atmosphere and drafts.

With foliage plants the dry atmosphere of the average living room is fatal. In such air, the leaves will lose moisture faster than the roots can replace it. While you can't be expected to change the whole heating system of your house to suit your ferns, you can at least give the poor things a respite from the atmosphere of the room by standing them out on a mild day to enjoy the gentle showers.

Generally speaking, the flowering plants require more sun than the foliage specimens, and the south and west windows should be reserved for them, using the north and east windows for the philodendron, aspidistra, ferns and other ferns for their foliage. Even the flowers which are normally shade lovers, like the begonia and African violet, will appreciate a bit of sun if they get in a south window in mid-Winter.

Most potted plants do best when room temperature can be maintained between 60 degrees and 65 degrees. Over-heating leads to stunted growth, poor rooting conditions and all dropping. All plants require fresh air, but direct drafts, and one of the commonest causes of leaf and bud dropping is that cold wind which comes rattling round a poorly-drafted window. The begonia's pet aversion is a violently fluctuating temperature. Calceolarias and cinerarias bloom longest when they are kept cool and in a good light, but they dislike too much direct sun. Primulas like to be kept cool and moist, but like the cyclamens and African violets, they are best watered from below, to avoid rotting the crown.

The slightest trace of household gas in the atmosphere will affect your house plants profoundly, and the Jerusalem cherry is particularly sensitive in this respect.

Many house plants cease flowering in Winter and others will flower only feebly. This is a natural condition, for the Winter is a resting period for many of them induced by the shortest days. Most of the plants which do flower in the Winter have been prepared for blooming during the preceding months of Summer and Autumn.

During the Winter, house plants should receive special treatment to accommodate them to this rest period. All practices which tend to stimulate growth should be restricted; less water is needed; repotting and root disturbance should be avoided.

Fairly low temperatures are desirable, but as the warmth of a house is maintained to suit humans rather than plants, this is not always practicable. Often a compromise can be made by keeping the plants in the coolest room, and one in which the temperature falls to 60 degrees during the night. Humidity can be increased with evaporating pans or radiators, or pans of water near hot air ducts. CACTUS NEED LITTLE ATTENTION

All cactus are succulents, but remember all succulents are not cactus. Cacti plants vary in size, the largest of them being the Giant Saguaro, weighing

READY CASH ADVANCED BY BANK OF MONTREAL FOR ESSENTIAL HOME IMPROVEMENTS.

"A stitch in time saves nine" holds particularly true about improvements and repairs to your home. It is false economy to postpone them even if you are short of ready cash. A low-cost Bank of Montreal loan, made now, may well save you the extra costs which often come from long-delayed repairs.

Whether you need money to paint your home, plaster the ceilings or replace the furnace, it will pay you to have a chat with WILBUR DAWSON, manager of the WHITE ROCK Branch of Montreal.

Personal loans at the Bank of Montreal cost only six per cent a year and are repayable in easy instalments. And you pay interest only on the amount still owing. Thus, if you borrow $100 and repay monthly over a year, the cost is only 27 cents a month. You can borrow more or less, for shorter or longer periods, at proportionately the same cost.

If you need money for home improvements, don't hesitate to call on Mr. DAWSON. "Lending money is my business," he says. "When you ask for a Bank of Montreal loan, you do not ask a favour."
